

Brookside Gardens

1800 Glenallan Avenue, Wheaton, MD 20902
301.962.1400 * www.brooksidegardens.org

January 6, 2006

Contact for media only: Leslie McDermott
301-962-1427, Leslie.McDermott@mncppc-mc.org

WINTER/SPRING CONSERVATORY DISPLAY and SCULPTURE SHOW

Welcome spring inside lush conservatories that will cultivate your senses and brighten your spirits. Pink, white and red camellias and cyclamen will be paired with vivid orchids and spring bulbs and set against the colorful foliage of eucalyptus, ferns, grasses, woody plants and other annuals.

Regional sculptors display their works in a wide variety of styles and materials in a unique conservatory setting amidst the colorful and fragrant flowers of the annual Winter/Spring Display. Pieces are for sale. Saturday, January 14 through Sunday, April 23, 2006. 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily, free. Brookside Gardens Conservatory, 1500 Glenallan Avenue, Wheaton, MD 20902

ARTISTS TALKS IN THE CONSERVATORY

Join area artists for an opportunity to hear the hows and whys of their pieces in the Conservatory Sculpture Show. Talks located in the Conservatory, are free of charge and no registration is necessary.

Paul Pincus, Saturday, March 4, 1:00pm
Ingrid Barnes, Sunday, March 5, 1:00pm
Melissa Wood, Saturday, March 11, 1:00pm
Peter Wood, Sunday, March 12, 1:00pm
Bobby Donovan, Sunday, March 12, 1:30pm
Pauline McCoskey, Saturday, March 18, 1:00pm
Mike Shaffer, Sunday, March 19, 1:00pm
Jordan Cohen, Saturday, March 25, 1:00pm
Pamela Meek, Saturday, March 25, 1:30pm
Barry Perlis, Sunday, March 26, 1:00pm
Irma Spencer, Sunday, March 26, 1:30pm

For more information, call 301-962-1400 or visit us online at www.brooksidegardens.org