Victims Memorial at Brookside Gardens - Reflection Terrace Page 1 of 1

Montgomery County Department of Park and Planning

THE MARYLAND NATIONAL CAPITAL PARK AND PLANNING COMMISSION

MCPB Item: 4. Date: 4/01/04

9500 Brunett Avenue Silver Spring, Maryland 20901

Memorandum

TO:

Montgomery County Planning Board

VIA:

Jeff Zyontz, Chief

Countywide Planning Division

FROM:

David Vismarra, Director of Brookside Gardens

Bill Mooney, Partnerships Manager

Ken Nichols, Director, Parks Foundation

SUBJECT: Victims Memorial at Brookside Gardens - Reflection Terrace

Requested Planning Board Action: Approval

 Recommend that the Planning Board approve the plan and cost estimate for a memorial space at Brookside gardens commemorating the victims of the sniper shootings from October 2002 and name the site Reflection Terrace.

Background

During the summer of 2003 the County was preparing for an event to commemorate the victims of the October 2002 sniper shootings. During the preparations, discussions were held with the families of the victims concerning a permanent memorial. The families expressed interest in a place that would be peaceful and provide a quiet place for relatives and friends to sit and remember. They are interested in a simple place out the main stream of everyday life. As a result, County staff requested that the Commission consider such a facility in Brookside Gardens. The memorial would be designed as a joint project. Initial discussions concluded that such a memorial could be incorporated at Brookside and it was agreed that staff would work to identify an appropriate site and concept.

Subsequently the curator of Brookside, Phil Normandy, has recommended the stone garden that overlooks the Gude Gardens as the site. This extraordinary site meets or exceeds the criteria requested by the family and the memorial can be created with minimal disruption of the park. The Parks Foundation has secured the pro-bono services of a landscape designer, Sunny Scully, to prepare a detailed concept for the memorial, which is described below.

Victims Memorial at Brookside Gardens - Reflection Terrace Page 2 of 2

This project provides an opportunity to provide a place for the families, friends, and the whole community to pause and remember the victims in a setting that is peaceful and healing.

Objective Provide a contemplative space for reflection, healing and remembering The memorial space is the stone formation overlooking the lake and the Gude Gardens. The space is in the center of the park, yet it is not a heavily traveled area. The space sits beside the park lake and a small waterfall and looks out on an expanse of lawn planted with specimen trees and shrubs. Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone. The site has existing stones which	Brookside Gardens Victims Memorial Ol	bjectives and Related Recommendations formation overlooking the lake and the Gude Gardens. The space is in the center of the park, yet it is not a heavily traveled area. The space sits beside the park lake and a small waterfall and looks out on an expanse of lawn planted with specimen trees and shrubs. Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
Gude Gardens. The space is in the center of the park, yet it is not a heavily traveled area. The space sits beside the park lake and a small waterfall and looks out on an expanse of lawn planted with specimen trees and shrubs. Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		The memorial space is the stone center of the park, yet it is not a heavily traveled area. The space sits beside the park lake and a small waterfall and looks out on an expanse of lawn planted with specimen trees and shrubs. Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.	reflection, healing and remembering traveled area. The space sits beside the park lake and a small waterfall and looks out on an expanse of lawn planted with specimen trees and shrubs. Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
the park lake and a small waterfall and looks out on an expanse of lawn planted with specimen trees and shrubs. Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
the park lake and a small waterfall and looks out on an expanse of lawn planted with specimen trees and shrubs. Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		traveled area. The space sits beside
Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		looks out on an expanse of lawn
Inform visitors of the purpose of the memorial On one of the two major stones in the formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us — and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		planted with specimen trees and
formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us — and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		shrubs.
formation, the following wording will explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us — and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.	Inform visitors of the purpose of the	On one of the two major stones in the explain the purpose of the memorial: During the frightening Summer and Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.	memorial
Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		,
Fall in 2002, the senseless, purposeful violence of two men caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		During the frightening Summer and caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
caused the deaths of thirteen innocent people. Although the tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		• tragedies occurred in several parts of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.	·	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us — and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		innocent people. Although the
of the country, sniper fire in the Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us — and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		tragedies occurred in several parts Washington, DC area abruptly ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
ended the lives of ten men and women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us — and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		_ - • women. The stones here, engraved with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
with the names of those ten, bear witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		· · witness to the fact that they lived and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
and worked among us – and they are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
are not forgotten. Their lives, each unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
unique but all too short, are forever part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
part of our collective story. This place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
place also honors the kindness of so many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
many who supported their families, and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
and whose active compassion still strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		- strengthens the bonds of community. Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.
Remember the victims Each victim's name will be engraved on the second major stone.		-
the second major stone.	Remember the victims
The site in the state of the st provide a variety of seating and various	• views of the landscape features described above. The placement of the		• existing stones provides privacy for		• visitors. In addition, on the stone that	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • looks over the pond, the following will be engraved:
Linger here and reflect on those lost to		- ,
violence, hope for a gentler world;		- seek a reverence for life among all people.

Victims Memorial at Brookside Gardens - Reflection Terrace Page 4 of 4

Cost Estimate and Schedule

The cost estimate for the memorial is less than $10,000 with an additional cost of $20,000 for an accessible path to the site. Working with the Parks Foundation and the police victims assistance unit, we intend that the project will be funded through contributions and by the County.

The project is to be completed in time for the Fall 2004 remembrance event.

Other Issues

The project will disturb minimal ground area during installation (less than 5,000 square feet). The minimal disturbance will not trigger either the forest conservation ordinance or storm water management and there will not be a requirement to do a natural resource inventory, comply with forest conservation, or storm water requirements.

It is anticipated that this project will cause minimal change to park visitation and will require no change to the existing parking at Brookside Gardens.

There are no operating budget impacts anticipated from this project.

The families of the victims have been presented the concept and viewed the sketches and representations. They are very pleased with the proposed memorial.

The project has been presented to the Parks Foundation Board and received their support. In addition, the Arts and Humanities Council has reviewed the project and has expressed their support as well.

Attachments

- 1. Existing Park Map
- 2. Plan Concept